  - Community Stake Holder – Where can i find out more information about this. Is this going to effect Boyle Heights?
- Committee Comment(s):
  - Drew Brauer – There may be one active drill site in Boyle Heights. Believes that it is premature to support the ordinance prior to the Economic Study being completed, and there are severe economic impacts closing the wells, and legal issues regarding land taking.
  - Dan Morales – Not knowing more than what i just heard, 2500 is a large radius. I think it is premature.

- Ernie Hidalgo – I support the motion as is. But if we do not support the motion as is. I feel that we should wait until we have more information [to make a recommendation].
- Dan Morales asks Ernie to expand on his support of this item
- Ernie Hidalgo responds that health and safety concerns are first and foremost. Also elaborates on the Global Climate Change situation, the health of those who live next to the drill sites, the move [by the City] to renewable energies and reduction in fossil fuel usage. As well as the economic shift to support these jobs of the future.
- The Committee briefly discusses the economic impact and defaults to the Economic Study ordered by the City Council
- Jason G states that in terms of the history of Boyle Heights, most, if not all oil drilling was removed from Boyle Heights. [The drilling radius] would not affect BH directly, but the rest of LA. If the Study is to be completed in 120 days, we can come back to this subject.
