a. Electric Vehicle, CF 17-0309

Going directly to board for consideration. Air pollution is real concern in area. Electric Cars are becoming cheaper some programs offer large trade-ins for swapping out junk cars. This policy is only for new developments. How does this come into play under transits zones were parking is often taken away for affordable housing. Is this attracting gentrification? No since it electric cars are becoming more affordable. The levels of air pollution in BH require aggressive measures.

b. Dockless Mobility options (bikes and scooters)

Review of types of scooters available, city will be having hearings in March regarding scooters. This is only one company. Average user is 46 years old. No information on gender. They are tracked and based on activity it is where they decide to post. In BH there will be 50 scooters deployed. DTLA will have 4500.
